NEW! Seeking experienced instructor for HRM

Open position teaching business module in January - June 2021

The position is suitable only for residents in Finland, due to a weekly delivery schedule.

HELBUS Helsinki School of Business seeks experienced instructor to deliver the following University of Northampton (UoN) modules, taught in Helsinki in the Spring and Summer term 2021:

- “Strategic Human Resource Management”

The module is part of the final year of the BA (Hons) in Business and Management -programme. The instructor is expected to prepare, teach and assess the module, in close collaboration with UoN module leaders. The module’s content, description, learning outcomes, assessment criteria and schedule are determined by UoN. Find out more about the workload, teaching period, and course description of the modules by clicking on this Module Descriptors document.

We require the following:

- Teaching experience at the required level (undergraduate) directly related to the module content (please specify the taught subjects in your CV)
- Master’s or preferably Ph.D. in business or related field
- Excellent English skills
- Experience in blended/hybrid teaching & learning

Additionally, we greatly value the following:

- A formal teaching qualification
- Sound experience in planning, delivering and assessing courses and providing feedback to students
- Proactive approach to supporting students and interactive teaching methods
- Experience in the UK higher education sector

- Practice experience in the relevant area
- Structured approach with attention to detail

To indicate your interest in either of the above positions, please do the following:

1. Fill in your application in our vacancy application system here.
2. Please upload your CV, using the format in this template (copy paste to a word-document). Please indicate in your CV specific topics taught as they relate to the respective module.

We expect shortlisted candidates to refer to the sought qualities listed above in their application. Please submit your application as soon as possible - latest by September 27th, 2020 at 24.00 Helsinki time. For further information, please email hr\(at\)helbus.fihelbus.fi), with subject heading Strategic Human Resource Management. Please do not send CVs or applications by email, only applications in the vacancy application system will be considered. We will only contact shortlisted candidates.

We store applications for two years, deleting them in the subsequent November after two years have passed unless you notify us otherwise.
