

Assistant Professor of Management

Company:
University of Chile

Location:
Chile / Santiago

Discipline:
Management

Employment Type:
Permanent Full-time

Posted:
2021-06-26

Contact Person:
If you wish to apply for this position, please specify that you saw it on AKADEUS.

Assistant Professor of Management

Department of Business Administration

Faculty of Economics and Business, University of Chile.

The Department of Business and Management of the Faculty of Economics and Business at University of Chile is currently accepting applications for faculty positions in the areas of in Management and International Business starting in March 2022. The position is based in Santiago, Chile.

REQUIREMENTS:

Candidates must have been granted or nearly completed a Ph.D. in Business Administration or Management. Candidates with a concentration in Management and International Business will be preferred. Applicants ought to demonstrate excellent business research and teaching skills for both undergraduate and graduate business programs. Proficiency in both English and Spanish is desirable. Candidates able to teach international business, global management, introduction to business and general management, and entrepreneurship courses will be preferred. More senior candidates should have teaching experience and a relevant publication record in management journals. A comprehensive background in business (through education, executive or business experience) is desired. We are looking for international talent that adds to our team and community and wants to contribute to business education in our region with an outstanding commitment to our students and to generate research relevant to our mission and stakeholders.

OUR INSTITUTION AND ITS CONTEXT:

Founded in 1934, the School of Economics and Business at University of Chile is among the leading schools in Latin America according to worldwide rankings. Our school has around 3000 undergraduate students and 1,500 postgraduate students at the master and PhD levels. The School of Economics and Business has 80+ full time faculty academics with expertise in areas, such as Management and Strategy, Marketing, Finance, Human Resource Management, Entrepreneurship,

International Business, Business Information Systems, Economics and Accounting. Our School offers competitive salaries, research funds and excellent environment for scholarly work. The School of Economics and Business is accredited by AACSB International and the Association of MBAs (AMBA).

Santiago is located in a central valley of Chile, with mild climate similar to central California (USA). Most of the year, Santiago shares the same time zone as the US East Coast, easing academic interaction with peers in the US. Santiago has over 30 Universities, and there is a substantive number of Business Schools with an established body of faculty graduated from top Global Universities. This growing cluster of researchers, both from Chile and abroad, working in Santiago; provides an excellent environment for scholarly work and establishing an academic career in Latin America.

APPLICATION PROCESS:

If you want to apply to this position please send your application package to the University of Chile Department of Business Administration Search Committee to applications@unegocios.cl using the subject "2022 Faculty Application".

In your application package please include your CV, copy of recent/key publications, teaching evaluations/assessments, recommendation letters and a cover letter indicating your interest and academic goals. Letters of recommendation are optional, as they will be required at a later stage of the hiring process. All information provided at these early stages of the selection process will be treated with confidentiality.

We will be receiving applications until August 31st 2021, or until the position is filled.

Faculty members of our Department will be conducting interviews with the prospective candidates starting the week of the Academy of Management 2021 Meeting (August 4th, 2021).

Contact Person:

If you wish to apply for this position, please specify that you saw it on AKADEUS.