Vice-Chancellor's Research Fellowship

- Contribute to High-Quality Collaborative Research with Significant Community Impact
- Attractive Salary, 17% Super and Flexible Working Arrangements on Offer
- 3 or 4 Year Fixed Term Contract (Depending on Fellowship type)

About the Program

Whether you just started your career in research or have a proven track record, an RMIT Research Fellowship can help to consolidate your career as a Research Scientist.

As an RMIT Vice-Chancellor's Research Fellow you will:

- Contribute significantly to our strategic research priority themes and research priority areas — generating new ideas and building our research and innovation capability;
- Apply innovative, enterprising research practice to solving complex problems and meeting the needs of communities;
- Identify and develop innovative solutions to problems affecting communities around the world; and
- Work with internationally recognised partners to ensure our research creates value and positively impacts the economy, society, and the environment.

The 2022 Vice-Chancellor's Research Fellowships open 1 August, and we are looking to hear from Senior Research, Research Fellows, and Postdoctoral Fellows whose research, experience and expertise align with one of RMIT's 6 Strategic Research Priority Themes below:

- Sustainable futures
- Healthier futures
- Productive futures
- Fairer futures

- Digital futures
- Indigenous futures

About You

You will have prior experience in conducting and leading research, as well as experience in attracting research funding, including competitive grants from both national and international sources. You will be recognised for producing high quality outputs and have evidence of collaboration across industry and/or research organisations and/or disciplines.

Female Only Recruitment Conditions

All Vice-Chancellor's Research Fellows are hosted in one of RMIT's academic Schools within our three Colleges.

To address the under representation of women in STEMM, for the Senior Research and Research Fellowships positions, there are some Schools where we will only accept applications from women, including those who identify as women or are gender diverse. This condition applies in the following Schools:

- School of Engineering (Academic levels B and C)
- School of Computing Technologies (Academic level C)

Section 12 of the Victorian Equal Opportunity Act permits the University to conduct female only recruitment in addressing the substantive imbalance of female representation at the academic levels and Schools listed above.

NOTE: these conditions do not apply to the Postdoctoral Fellowships and Indigenous Research Fellowships, which are open to all applicants across all Schools.

About RMIT

RMIT is a leading multi-sector university of technology, design and enterprise with more than 96,000 students and close to 10,000 staff globally. We offer postgraduate, undergraduate, vocational education and online programs to provide students with a variety of work-relevant pathways.

Our purpose is to offer life-changing experiences for our students, and to help shape the world with research, innovation, teaching and industry engagement. With strong industry connections forged over 130 years, collaboration with industry remains integral to RMIT's leadership in education, applied and innovative research, and to the development of highly skilled, globally-focused graduates.

Bring your Whole Self to Work

We are better for our diversity. When we listen to those who are different to us, or challenge us, we grow stronger together. When we feel like we belong, we can achieve so much more. We respect each other, embrace our differences and build a sense of belonging in our team and beyond.

We are proud that our dedication to diversity has been recognised by a broad spectrum of external organisations. Visit our Linkedin Life pages to learn more and see some of our most recent wins.

RMIT has a strong dhumbali (commitment) to the employment, development and retention of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people within a culturally safe environment; we strongly encourage applications from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.
